THE GOOD OLD DAYS.

Try Now the Ways of Yore and See How You Like Them.

Good old times, says the San Antonio Light, are a delusion and a snare, and the man who sighs for them has little conception of what they were. Return to them, would you? Then rise on a cold morning and wash at the pump, pull on a pair of rawhide boots that rival a tin can in stiffness, pull on a woolen shirt over your back and sit down to a bare meal with your three legged stool dancing around on a split slab floor, eat corn pone and bacon for a steady diet and labor fourteen hours out of twenty-four. Go without a daily paper, a fly screen, a mosquito bar, a spring mattress, a kerosene lamp, geehaw your oxen to market and sit on the floor of an ox cart as you wend your way to church or a frolic. Parch corn and peas for coffee and sassafras for tea and see how you like it.

The old days are looked backward to affectionately, says the Galveston News, because they were the days of our youth, of bounding blood and supple joints, the days of hope and the days of love and laughter and song. The days of the present will be the good old days of the coming generation and will be regarded by our successors as rather crude in customs and harsh in many ways, yet withal not to be despised. The progressives of our age are the mossbacks of later eras. Fifty years hence we will be accounted as slow and immature as we now regard those of half a century ago.

CHIRSCHMUS.

A Swiss Dainty That Is Made of Preserved Cherries.

Last summer I ate genuine Swiss chirschmus twenty years old. It tasted like a concentration of all the richness and sweetness of the most perfect cherries. In appearance it was a purplish black mass. Age had not impaired it in the least.

Upon inquiry I learned how this cherry concoction, with its wonderful preserving quality, is made. The cherries used must be perfect—very large, ripe, juicy black ones and, above all, very sweet.

The juice of them pressed out and strained through a bag is put in a large preserving kettle, at the bottom of which is placed a piece of smoked pork fastened to a block of wood. The wood serves as a weight to keep the fat down and prevent the juice from burning as it thickens.

The cherry juice is boiled for about twenty-four hours without sugar, but stirred from time to time until it becomes a mass of sweetness so firm and thick that it would not fall if the kettle were inverted.

That is all, a simple process, but the result is delicious. This chirschmus is in general use in Switzerland with the "susse anke" (sweet butter) and bread. —London Ladies' World.

Feeding Silkworms.

The quality and quantity of silk produced by your silkworms will all depend on how you feed them. Too much food should not be given at once, but they should never be left entirely without at any time during the day or night. You must, therefore, watch carefully to get an idea of their appetite and provide accordingly, says Home Chat. Fresh mulberry leaves are the proper food for silkworms, but if at any time these are not procurable young lettuce leaves are the best substitute, but they are only a stop gap. Silkworms cannot live for a long period without their natural food.

A Rich Man.

Standards of prosperity vary in different parts of the country, but that of Captain Jack is purely local—to himself. The old man came out of his cottage door one morning and discovered some ne'er-do-well neighbors digging clams in the flat in front of his shore.

"Dear me, boys," he quavered in a weak, old voice, "don't dig my clams! There's Abel Wyman over there across the cove; he has ham for breakfast every morning in the year. Go over there and dig his clams, boys."

His Awful Mistake.

"Young man," said her father, "do you smoke cigarettes?"

"I should say not," declared the youth hastily. "I would consider it disgraceful to be seen with one of the vile things in my mouth. I think all cigarette smokers should be jailed. Why do you ask, sir?"

"Thought perhaps you could let me have one," said the old man pointedly. "I smoke 'em myself."—London Telegraph.

No Siren.

Mr. City Boarder was being entertained by his rural sweetheart.

"Do you play and sing 'When the Cows Are In the Corn,' Miss Milkyweigh?"

"Lord bless you, no!" she ejaculated; "I get the dogs and chase 'em out."—Harper's Weekly.

Unnatural Finish.

Mrs. Meeds—And did your husband die a natural death?

Mrs. Weeds—No, he died suddenly.

Mrs. Meeds—What was there unnatural about that?

Mrs. Weeds—Why, poor, dear John was the slowest man that ever lived.—Chicago Tribune.

The Society Way.

Duty called.

The man looked at the card lazily.

If thou knowest how to use money it will become thy handmaid. If not, it will become thy master.—Diodorus.

POWER OF MIND.

Presence of mind is always an asset. It is especially valuable in presence of danger such as springs from the presence of men intent upon murder. This was never better exemplified than when a gang of men set out to take the life of Mazzini. He got to hear of their project. All the precautions he took was to get ready a store of very excellent cigars. The ruffians presently appeared at his address. "Come in, gentlemen," he said and produced his cigars. To each man he handed one. Taken aback at their reception, they seemed abashed and confused. "I know that you came to kill me," he said. "Why do you not proceed to your task?" This was too much for even this bloodthirsty deputation. They could not kill the man whose cigars they were smoking and who invited them to carry out their task. Muttering some excuse for having interrupted his studies, they shuffled out of the room and troubled him no more.

Each man has his own method with would be assassins. With Napoleon it was the eye which counted. While he was visiting the Duke of Saxe-Coburg-Gotha one of the duke's retainers made up his mind to slay him. He had so frequently heard the great man denounced as the curse of Europe that he felt impelled to seize the chance to destroy him. He was a common soldier at the time and had to do sentry duty in one of the corridors of the palace along which Napoleon passed. He put his finger to the trigger as the duke, accompanied by Napoleon, drew in sight. He aimed for Napoleon's heart. Napoleon saw him. He said nothing, but simply fixed his eagle eye upon the youth. The latter seemed spellbound. He let the musket fall with a crash to the floor of the stone corridor. He felt, he said, as if he must have swooned. Napoleon took no further notice, said no word, passed upon his way as if nothing had happened. That one flashing glance had saved his life. He knew its effect and value.—St. James' Gazette.

LANGUAGE EVOLUTION.

Use of the Suffix "Less" In Verbs, Nouns and Adjectives.

Many will remember that some years ago there went on a violent controversy about the word tireless. The discovery had been made that "less" was a suffix which could properly be appended only to nouns; hence the form must be discarded, and we must all take pains to say untiring. The duty of so doing was preached from scores of professional and newspaper pulpits. No one seemed to think or care for the various other adjectives similarly formed and therefore liable to the similar censure which they never received. Hostility was directed against it alone. The actual flaw which vitiated the arguments against tireless its censors never knew or took into consideration. This was that the fancied rule covering the creation of such words had practically long ceased to be operative whenever a new formation struck the sense of the users of language as being desirable.

Unquestionably in our earliest speech the suffix "less" when employed to form adjectives was joined only with nouns. But the general sloughing off of nominal and verbal endings which went on in later centuries reduced a great proportion of substantives and verbs in the speech to precisely the same form. In consequence the sense of any fundamental distinction between the two broke down in many ways—in one way in particular. There is nothing easier in our speech than to convert a verb into a noun or a noun into a verb. It is a process which has taken place constantly in the past and is liable to take place at any time in the future, either at the will or the whim of the writer or speaker.—Thomas R. Lounsbury in Harper's.

A Horse Story.

Our Dumb Animals tells a remarkable story about the intelligence of a mare who saved her colt from death by stopping a train on a railroad in Texas. The colt had fallen with its legs through a railroad bridge, and the mother started down the track to meet the coming train. As the train came up she stood on the track whinnying. The train stopped, and then the mare trotted ahead of it as it moved slowly to the bridge. Here the colt was discovered and extricated from its perilous position. The story was vouched for by the engineer, railroad men and passengers in the train.

He Was at Church.

Saunders, the village slater, was a very poor attender at the church. One day the minister met him and said: "Come, now, Saunders, why is it you are never at church nowadays?"

"Never at the kirk?" replied Saunders. "Ye're quite wrang there, sir; I spent the hale o' last week on the tap o't."—Glasgow Times.

This Was In 1806,

Says the London Times of May, 1806: "A decently dressed woman was last night brought out into Smithfield for sale, but the brutal conduct of the bidders induced the man who was, or pretended to be, her husband, to refuse to sell her; on which a scene of riot and confusion highly disgraceful to our police took place."

There's a Reason.

Bill—He used to be a lawbreaker, but he's changed now. Jill—Keeps within the law, now, does he? Bill—Oh yes. Keeps within the jail too.—Yonkers Statesman.

A man cannot escape in thought, any more than he can in language, from the past and the present.

FAMOUS BALLET DANCERS.

It has been asserted that the grand ballet died when the famous Taglioni retired in 1845. At any rate, the ballet today is chiefly a spectacle of dress and colored limelight. Except for a very few performers, dancing as a high art has vanished.

There is no one now to set beside La Taglioni, who was the queen of the stage. Balzac introduced her into his novels. Even Thackeray condescended to notice her and declared enthusiastically in "The Newcomes" that the "young men of the day will never see anything so graceful as Taglioni in 'La Sylphide.'" At that time she was the rage. Stagecoaches and greatcoats were named after her.

La Taglioni owed her charm to a wonderful lightness and grace. Her style was rather ideal than realistic and voluptuous, as was then the vogue. The hideous ballet skirt of today she never wore, but a skirt that reached nearly to her ankles. It was one of the principles of her father, who taught her all she learned of the art, that the dancer should be modest in dress, in movement and in expression.

Another famous master, who called himself "Le Dieu de la Danse," always told his pupils to use all the coquetry they could.

Vestris, who founded the famous Vestris family, was an eighteenth century celebrity and quite remarkably conceited even for a dancer. "There are but three great men alive," he used to say, "myself, the Prussian Frederick and Voltaire." (It is interesting to compare Southey's remark that a male dancer deserves to be hamstrung.) That profession of which he was so proud is indeed an arduous one. Vestris used to practice for about six hours a day. A dancer must be extremely strong and supple.

A curious story is told about Fanny Elssler, a German dancer with coal black hair, which illustrates the extreme muscular strength a dancer requires. She was crossing to America when she entered her cabin one day and discovered a thief abstracting the jewel case which she kept hidden under her pillow. Before he could attack her she planted her foot full in his chest and killed him on the spot.

It is curious that no Englishwoman has ever achieved supreme success as a dancer. It is possible, as foreigners assert, that they lack the dramatic gift. It is certain that a lifelong devotion and arduous apprenticeship are essential to any expression through the medium of dancing. The "rats," the beginners at the Paris Opera, are articled for five years, and then, unless they have danced from their cradle, they cannot hope to attain the first rank.

Another quality essential to the great dancer is infinite patience. The only English dancer who ever gave promise of attaining the front rank failed in this respect. Lola Montez was the somewhat foreign name she had taken. She lost her temper one day with the manager at rehearsal and expressed her feelings so dramatically as to break an umbrella over his head. Managers will endure much for art's sake, but this was too much.

Carlotta Grisi is another famous name of the old opera. It was she who first introduced the polka into England—a Bohemian dance that came to stay. It was for her, too, that Heine, Gautier and Adolphe Adam collaborated in writing "Giselle."

There were a score more famous names that were familiar words in those days. Of the twelve leading dancers engaged at the King's theater in 1824 for a two months' season five were a sufficient attraction to receive more than £1,000 each.—London Mail.

A Lazy Liver

May be only a tired liver, or a starved liver. It would be a stupid as well as savage thing to beat a weary or starved man because he lagged in his work. So in treating the lagging, torpid liver it is a great mistake to lash it with strong drastic drugs. A torpid liver is but an indication of an ill-nourished, enfeebled body whose organs are weary with over work. Start with the stomach and allied organs of digestion and nutrition. Put them in working order and see how quickly your liver will become active. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has made many marvelous cures of "liver trouble" by its wonderful control of the organs of digestion and nutrition. It restores the normal activity of the stomach, increases the secretions of the blood-making glands, cleanses the system from poisonous accumulations, and so relieves the liver of the burdens imposed upon it by the defection of other organs.

If you have bitter or bad taste in the morning, poor or variable appetite, coated tongue, foul breath, constipated or irregular bowels, feel weak, easily tired, despondent, frequent headaches, pain or distress in "small of back," gnawing or distressed feeling in stomach, perhaps nausea, bitter or sour "risings" in throat after eating, and kindred symptoms of weak stomach and torpid liver, no medicine will relieve you more promptly or cure you more permanently than Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Perhaps only a part of the above symptoms will be present at one time and yet point to torpid liver or biliousness and weak stomach. Avoid all hot bread and biscuits, griddle cakes and other indigestible food and take the "Golden Medical Discovery" regularly and stick to its use until you are vigorous and strong.

The "Discovery" is non-secret, non-alcoholic, is a glyceric extract of native medicinal roots with a full list of its ingredients printed on each bottle-wrapper and attested under oath. Its ingredients are endorsed and extolled by the most eminent medical writers of the age and are recommended to cure the diseases for which it is advised.

Daily Chronicle and the Index-Tribune only $9 a year for both papers.

A Candidate Who Should Not Be Lost Sight Of.

ALBERT G. BURNETT, for the past ten years Superior Judge of this county, has been selected by the Republican party as a candidate for Justice of the Court of Appeal (Third District.)

Judge Burnett is best known and appreciated in his own home, but he is by no means a stranger to the people of California, as his reputation as a learned, upright and honest Judge has won for him recognition everywhere in the State. As a result he has been frequently called upon to preside in the Courts of San Francisco and other places where the Judges were disqualified.

Judge Burnett's name is intimately linked with the history of the State and those pioneers of the early days that helped make California what it is to-day—the rarest gem of all in the setting of the galaxy of States—his uncle Hon. Peter G. Burnett, being the first Governor of the State atter being admitted into the Union.

Judge Burnett was born in Oregon fifty years ago, but has spent nearly all his life in California, having came here with his parents when only four years of age. He located in Santa Rosa, his present home, thirty-three years ago, and has lived in Sonoma county continuously since.

Judge Burnett is learned in the law and a man of pleasing personality. He is honest and capable and the voter in casting a ballot for him will make no mistake.

Those Amendments To the Constitution.

FOURTEEN amendments to the State Constitution will appear on the ballots at the election in November and without passing upon the merits of any one of them we will explain them very briefly so that the voter may be guided by his own judgment in the matter.

Amendment No. One—This amendment proposes to exempt the Cogswell Polytechnic College, located it San Francisco, from taxation, as are two other educational institutions in the State—Stanford University and Lick School of Mechanical Arts.

Amendment Two—This has for its purpose the increasing of the salaries of the Justices of the Supreme Court to $8,000 a year. Some are getting that sum but others receive $6,000. This amendment also fixes the salaries of the Justices of the District Court of Appeal at $7,000.

Amendment Three—Increases salary of Governor from $6000 to $10,000 per year; Secretary of State, $3,000 to $5,000; Controller, $3,000 to $5,000; Treasurer, $3,000 to $5,000; Surveyor General, $3,000 to $5,000; Attorney General $3,000 to $6,000. This amendment also increases the pay of the clerks in the state offices from $1600 to $1800 per annum.

Amendment Four—This provides for making state, county and municipal bonds more saleable abroad.

Amendment Five—This applies to the charters of large cities.

Amendment Six—Limits the terms of all offices.

Amendment Seven—This adds to the duties of the Lieutenant Governor and makes him besides being the presiding officer of the Senate ex-officio member of all the State Boards, and his salary will be increased to $4,000 per annum.

Amendment Eight—Applies to corporations whose charters are about to expire by limitation and allows them an extension of fifty years additional.

Amendment Nine—Permits all public moneys to be deposited in any banks within the State, provided such bank furnish as security for such deposits negotiable bonds—United States, State, municipal, etc.

Amendment Ten—Fixes the pay of members of the Legislature at $1000 for each session and removes the sixty day limitation as to the length of the sessions. It also limits the amount to be paid to $500 a day for each house.

Amendment Eleven—This applies to San Francisco only and gives to its Board of Supervisors additional powers in opening and widening streets.

Amendment Twelve—This amendment applies to the charters of San Francisco and San Jose.

Amendment Thirteen—This amendment was proposed at the Extraordinary session of the Legislature convened by the Governor after the earthquake. It proposes to repeal section five of Article Thirteen which reads as follows: "Section 5. Every contract hereafter made, by which a debtor is obligated to pay any tax or assessment on money loaned, or on any mortgage, deed of trust, or other lien, shall, as to any interest specified therein, and as to such tax or assessment, be null and void." The repeal of this section will permit the borrower of money on real estate mortgage security to contract to pay the taxes levied thereon whenever it is to his interest to do so. In the rebuilding of San Francisco it was apparent that money would have to be borrowed in the East, and that this would be difficult to do in view of our very stringent laws requiring the lender of money to pay the tax thereon, and in the rebuilding of that city Eastern capital must be borrowed. The adoption of this amendment, it is claimed, is of vital consequence to that city. The repeal of this section does not involve the question of the taxation of mortgages, and mortgages will continue to be taxed should the amendment be adopted. It has a bearing on the question, however, in that it has been conclusively established that the borrower always pays the tax in the end. Lenders of money calculate upon receiving a net rate of interest and add thereto a sufficient rate to cover taxes. And almost invariably this additional rate is in excess of the actual rate of taxation So really the borrower pays a penalty for the privilege of having the lender pay the tax. He could save money by paying it himself, and by the adoption of this amendment the law will permit him to contract so to do.

Amendment Fourteen—Applies to San Francisco and San Jose only and authorizes those cities to issue 75-year municipal bonds.

Santa Rosa is rapidly rebuilding and will soon be herself again.

Starving to Death

Because her stomach was so weakened by useless drugging that she coudd not eat Mrs. Mary H. Walters, of St. Clair St;Columbus, O., was literally starving to death. She writes: "My stomach was so weak from useless drugs that I could not eat, and my nerves so wrecked that I could not sleep, and not before I was given up to die was I induced to try Electric Bitters, with the wonderful result that improvement began at once, and a complete cure followed." Best health tonic on earth. 50c. Guaranteed by L. S. Simmons, druggist.

The Breath of Life.

It's a significant fact that the strongest animal of its size, the gorilla, also has the largest lungs. Powerful lungs means powerful creatures. How to keep the breathing organs right should be man's chiefest study. Like thousands of others, Mrs. Ora A. Stephens, of Port Williams, O., has learned how to do this. She writes: "Three bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery stopped my cough of two years and cured me of what my friends thought consumption. O, it's grand for throat and lung troubles. Guaranteed by L. S. Simmons, druggist. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

"To Cure a Felon,"

says Sam Kendall of Phillipsburg, Kan, "just cover it over with Bucklen's Arnica Salve and the salve will do the rest." Quickest cure for burns, boils, sores, scalds, wounds, piles, eczema, salt rheum, chapped hands, sore feet and sore eyes. Only 25c at Simmons' drug store. Guaranteed.

Get SCOTT'S Emulsion

When you go to a drug store and ask for Scott's Emulsion you know what you want; the man knows you ought to have it. Don't be surprised, though, if you are offered something else. Wines, cordials, extracts, etc., of cod liver oil are plentiful but don't imagine you are getting cod liver oil when you take them. Every year for thirty years we've been increasing the sales of Scott's Emulsion. Why? Because it has always been better than any substitute for it.

PRINCIPAL NOLAN STANDS EXONERATED.

State Board of Education Declare Evidence Does Not Warrant the Charges.

The State Board of Education convened in Sacramento on Friday afternoon of last week and took up the case against Walter C. Nolan, principal of the Sonoma Grammar School, charged with misconduct.

A Sacramento dispatch says that the Board, after inquiring into the the case, unanimously decided to exonerate the accused and that a resolution to that effect had been drawn up.

Frederick F. Burk, a member of the Board, is quoted as saying among other things:

"We made a careful examination into the matter and the result was that we adopted a resolution to the effect that the testimony in the case did not uphold the charges and that we would refuse to annul Nolan's life deploma as a teacher and would declare that he was fully exonerated from the charges that had been brought against him."

Leave-Taking of Old Sonoma Residents.

Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher Willett and their son, Fletcher Willett, Jr., leave next Thursday for Berkeley, where they will make their future home. Thos. Willett, the eldest son, left here a few months ago and and took up his residence in the metropolis.

The departure of the Willetts will be greatly regretted by their many friends in this valley, but they carry with them, however, their best wishes for peace and happiness in their new home.

New Doctors in Town

Dr. Frederick Leix and wife, Frances G. Leix, M. D. D. O., late of the Mission, San Francisco, have located here. Dr. Leix has been a physician in the City and County Hospital, San Francisco, and has also been identified in the Emergency Service of that city. See professional card elsewhere in these columns.

All outside phones will be subject to a minimum charge of $1 per month, in accordance with the agreement with the Sunset Company.

Only one central will be maintained and that at Simmons' Drug Store.

Write or call at the office for all details. W. J. SHOTWELL, General Agent, No 6 East Street and Ferry Building Nave, San Francisco.

Fire in Fruit Dryer.

A fire on Tuesday afternoon partially destroyed Weyl's fruit dryer on First-street West. The dryer was being operated by Chinese and the fire started in the evaporator and extended to the roof of the building. The evaporator and roof were badly damaged. The firemen were promptly on the ground and it was owing to their efforts that the building was saved and the fire prevented from spreading. The loss was nominal.

TRUSTEES DISCUSS NEW CITY HALL.

Give Contractor MacQuiddy Further Extension of Time—Nothing Doing, However.

At an adjourned meeting of the City Trustees, held last Wednesday evening, at which all the members were present, the New City Hall problem came up for discussion, but no definite action was taken against contractor MacQuiddy, who was given until next Wednesday to resume work on the building

Work on the New City Hall ceased a few weeks ago, as it was apparent to the contractor and his sureties that the building could not be completed for less than $25,000 or $30,000 or almost double the contract price. The earthquake and fire in San Francisco are partially responsible for suspension of work on the building, as the price for labor and material has soared sky-high since the disaster.

So far the building has proven disastrous to both contractor MacQuiddy and sub-contractor Allamano, who had the contract for doing the stone work. The latter, losing $1200 or $1500 on the job, threw it up in disgust. Mr. MacQuiddy so far is out quite a sum of money and should he be compelled to complete the building it would be at a loss of $10,000 or $15,000 to him and his sureties.

We take it that our taxpayers have no desire to see any one cinched in the matter and trust that some arrangement can be made between the City Trustees and the contractor and his sureties that will save all hands from loss.

Must Certify to Purity of Wine.

The Pure Food Bill which goes into effect on the 1st of January, 1907, demands of the wine merchants that they give a certificate of the purity of their wines to the purchaser, and to enable the San Francisco wine merchants to give this certificate of purity, they will demand from the wine maker, when purchasing wines, a warranty of purity, a copy of which was shown a reporter Thursday, in the following form:

State of California, County of——ss. The producer and manufacturer of the above dry wines deposes and says:

That the wines are the product of the pure juice of the grape and that no cane, beet or glucose sugar has been added before or during fermentation, and that the wines are free from added color, antiseptic or other adulterations.

Garden Party for Benefit of Convent.

The garden party to be given on the grounds of the Agua Caliente Springs Hotel this evening should be well attended. The party is given by Mr. and Mrs. Richards for the benefit of Presentation Convent. The proceeds could not be applied to a better cause as the good Sisters who conduct it are doing much for this community in in more ways than one and are deserving of encouragement at the hands of our people regardless of sect or religions creed.

CONSOLIDATION OF PHONE INTERESTS.

Sunset and Rural Telephone Service Now Under One Control.

H. S. Johnson, county manager of the Sunset Telephone and Telegraph Company, entered into an agreement with the Sonoma Rural Telephone Company last Thursday, whereby the former company will have exclusive control of the service inside the city limits of Sonoma Under this agreement all connections, rural and otherwise, will be under the supervision of the Sunset's exchange in this city, while the Rural company will continue the maintainance and care of all telephones on the outside.

This is a move on the part of the rival companies that will prove of great advantage to the patrons of both systems. To quote an authority on the subject "competition in telephone service does not offer a choice of benefits, but compels a choice of evils; either a half service or a double price." As a majority of the residents of Sonoma and vicinity could not afford to patronize both systems, they have been deprived of communication with many subscribers that this consolidation of interests will now obviate without additional cost to them.

The Sonoma Rural Telephone Company will still continue to extend its line and improve its service in the territory adjacent to Sonoma, over which it will have full control.

The rural company is composed of Geo. Engler, Jas. F. Tate, W. F. Clewe and H. F. Bates.

Valdez in Santa Rosa Jail.

Frank Valdez, who burglarized the home of Enrico Eralde, in the rear of the Star saloon in this place, a few weeks ago, was lodged in the Santa Rosa jail by Deputy Sheriff Ryan last Tuesday.

Deputy Sheriff Ryan recovered most of the valuables taken from the Eralde home, among them being the $20 gold piece and several gold rings, the watch, a pair of earings and other jewelry. Money sufficent to pay the check of $18.55, which Valdez endorsed and cashed at one of our business houses, was also found on his person in addition to the $20 gold piece.

The prisoner was arraigned before Judge Burnett Wednesday and entered a plea of guilty to a charge of burglary. Sentence was deferred until Monday next, as it was developed during the proceedings that Valdez had been an inmate of the Mendocino Insane Asylem and his mental capacity will now be inquired into.

Frank E. Dowd.

Everybody in this section of the country knows Assessor Frank E. Dowd and his genial deputy for for Sonoma Township, Mont. Akers of Schellville. Having filled the office so satisfactorily, the late Democratic County Convention unanimously named him for another term and he will be very much in evidence before the campaign is over. Mr. Dowd has not as yet been campaigning down this way, but he has inserted his card in these columns to remind his friends that he is out for the office for another term and he may drop in on them any day.

This week representatives of the Santa Fe, Southern Pacific and California Northwestern Railways came together and entered into an agreement to complete the remaining 120 miles of railway between Sherwood, Mendocino county, and Eureka, Humboldt county, and when completed to operate the road jointly. The cost of constructing the 120 miles is estimated to be between $5,000,000 and $6,000,000.

AZTEC ARCHITECTURE.

Wonderful Endurance of the Old Mexican Buildings.

The Mexicans or the Aztec Indians can give the people of the United States lessons in architecture and in solid construction of buildings. There are buildings standing today in the City of Mexico that have stood for three centuries and are in an excellent state of preservation. There is not a frame building in the city. There are a few adobe, but most all are stone, brick or cement. There is a brick building down in the old part of the town that was erected prior to 1450.

It shows that so long ago as that the Indians were experts in the manufacture of bricks. But probably 80 per cent of all the buildings are made of concrete cement. Cement and concrete have been used successfully in Mexico for 500 years, and all the cathedrals and churches are of that material. On the line of the Vera Cruz Pacific can be seen the ruins of Toro Bravo, where there are evidences of a city ruined centuries ago. There are some twenty pyramids of solid cement which must have been erected over 500 years ago. One of these pyramids is 170 feet in height, and on the summit rests a cement ledge thirty feet in diameter. This, as well as others, is of filigree work and carved statuary.

Near this stands another of white limestone, built in four terraces, with carvings and ornamentations which would put to shame the modern American sculptor. It has stood all these centuries, yet the limestone is much easier broken than the cement. Think of a town of almost 400,000 persons, and the fire record is three in one year. The inside walls of many of the buildings are as much as six feet through, and all buildings are built around courts. There is no provision in any of them for fires, and at the present time small coal oil stoves are selling in the city for $20—the same that sell for $3 in the states. The floors are of stone, the ceilings of filigree cement, the walls of coarse plaster and almost without exception hand painted. The architecture on many buildings in the republic shows that the Indian of centuries ago was ahead of the modern builder of today.—Hobart News-Republican.

REFRIGERATOR RULES.

Buy your ice in pieces as large as can be accommodated. This is much more economical than to buy small ones.

Be careful not to fill dishes too full so that they will spill over. If anything is spilled, don't fail to wipe it up immediately.

Pack the ice well together and do not wrap it in paper or cloths; instead, keep the door of the ice chamber shut as much as possible.

Do not put food of any sort directly on the ice. If it is absolutely necessary to place it near the ice, see that it is in glass or porcelain.

Empty the refrigerator at least once a week; scrub the interior thoroughly, then scald the ice chamber and drainpipe with boiling water in which a lump of soda has been dissolved; follow this with clear boiling water; wipe dry and let it air for twenty minutes.

Great Men's Childhood.

"Many great men," said a psychologist, "gave signs of greatness even in their childhood. Mozart at the age of five composed a piece of music so difficult that his father, a professional musician, had some trouble in playing it.

"Macaulay before he was eight wrote the 'Compendium of Universal History, Being an Account of the Leading Events From the Creation Down to the Present Century.'

"Hartley at seven wrote a long and abstruse essay on the 'Nature of Man.' Bacon at nine finished a work on philosophy. Milton at twelve wrote two epics.

"On the other hand, Goethe, Steele, Dr. Johnson, Wagner, Voltaire, Tennyson, Poe and Fenimore Cooper were deemed stupid in their childhood."

Bitter Jerrold.

Among the sayings attributed to Douglas Jerrold is a very bitter one he applied to Mark Lemon, then editor of Punch. Lemon was deeply attached to Dickens and showed it in a very open fashion, which perhaps aroused the great satirist's jealousy. At all events, as Jerrold was walking out one day with Lemon and another friend, and Dickens with several more behind them, Lemon suddenly dropped away and turned back. "What has become of Punch?" asked Jerrold's companion. "Did you hear Dickens whistle?" was the cynical reply. "Dickens pays the dog tax for Lemon."

Liberty, Equality, Fraternity.

The French philosopher M. Le Bon, commenting on the motto of the revolution, "Liberty, Equality and Fraternity," declared that the real difference between the French and the British lay in the fact that the French were enamored of equality and cared little for liberty, while the British insisted on liberty and never gave a thought to equality. And when some one quoted this to Rudyard Kipling he instantly added his own comment to the effect that what the American really preferred was fraternity. "He is a good fellow himself, and he expects you to be one."

Convinced.

Mr. Spongely (slightly related)—Splendid! Magnificent! Do you know, Uncle Eli, I believe I shall never get tired of seeing the sun set behind that hill! Uncle Eli—That's what me an' mother's beginnin' to think.—Puck.

PAIN FROM A BURN PROMPTLY RELIEVED BY CHAMBERLAIN'S PAIN BALM.

Mr. James N. Nichols, a merchant and postmaster at Vernon, Conn., makes the following statement "A little child of Michael Strauss was recently in great pain from a burn on the hand, and as cold applications only increased the inflammation, Mr. Strauss came to me for something to stop the little one's pain. From the many liniments I carry in stock, I advised him to use Chamberlain's Pain Balm, and the first application drew out the inflammation and gave immediate relief. I have used this liniment myself and recommend it very often for cuts, burns, strains and lame back, and have never known it to disappoint."

Grease In Wool Fabrics.

Few persons realize when they put on woolen garments what a large amount of animal fats wool contains, for to the touch woolens are not greasy. In the big clothing shops where men's garments are cut, however, the floors around the tables where electric knives clip out the odd shaped pieces soon become as slippery as though they were waxed for a dance.

"Why do you wax the floors—to keep the fabrics clean?" is a common query from visitors.

But the clothing cutters explain that this accumulation of grease comes from the friction of wool cloth over the wood. The wood's pores soon become so charged with it that they feel greasy to the touch, and even the harder woods in the cutting tables absorb from the woolen fibers so much of the animal fat that to all appearances they might be in steady use in the rendering department of an abattoir.—New York Press.

A cough is the foundation of consumption. Ballard's Horehound Syrup will cure that cough. Mrs. S——, Great Falls, Montana, writes: "I have used Ballard's Horehound Syrup in my family for years. My children never suffer with coughs."

How Plate Glass Is Made.

The cast plate glass of which mirrors, shop windows and such things are made is prepared from the whitest sand, broken plate glass, soda, a small amount of manganese and cobalt oxides. The glass when perfectly melted is poured upon an iron table of the size required, and the thickness is regulated by a strip of iron placed down each of the four sides of the table. Immediately after it is poured out the molten substance is flattened down by an iron roller, which lowers the glass to the thickness of the strips at the sides. It is then annealed or tempered for several days, after which it is ground perfectly level and polished to transparent brilliancy. The first plate glass was made in 1688 at St. Picardy, France, where the process was found out by an accident, as so many other important methods in manufacture have been discovered, where there were eyes to see the accidents and minds to apply them or the lessons they taught to the advance of art or industry.

MONDAY MORNING.

Is It a Bad Time to Approach a Man on Business?

"Come in and see me Monday morning and we'll talk it over," said Gassaway, but Binks replied:

"Couldn't you make it Tuesday morning or Monday afternoon?"

So it was arranged for Tuesday morning. Binks turned from the telephone to me with a smile, saying:

"I'm glad he didn't make it Monday morning. We would never come to a conclusion then. You see," he continued, noting my surprise at such a statement, "Monday morning is the morning after Sunday. Never approach a man on business on Monday morning.

"I can't explain why it is, but every man goes to his office on Monday morning with a grouch. I suppose it's because he's been resting up all day Sunday and sort of hates to tear himself away from it. Anyway, I know it is so.

"Take your own case. I've known you many years, and whenever you meet me Monday morning I notice that you are yawning, taciturn and unsmiling. You had a good Sunday no doubt. Either you rested to beat the band or played golf or did something. Anyway, that took your mind off your business cares. Then you went to bed rather early, all prepared to get up early Monday. When the clock went off you were miserable about rising, and when you did get up you were ugly to everybody. It's the same way with all of us. We rest too hard Sundays. Instead of just relaxing a little we let everything of the week go and fall all to pieces in doing what we call recouping. It's the great American habit.

"That's the reason we have 'blue Mondays.' Some day, I suppose, we'll learn how to rest up over Sunday without completely disorganizing our work for Monday. If we don't I think it would be a good idea to cut Monday out of the business week and begin on Tuesday."—New York World.

But Cured by Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

"When my boy was two years old he had a severe attack of bowel complaint, but by the use of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy we brought him out all right," says Maggie Hickox of Midland, Mich. This remedy can be depended upon in the most severe cases. Even cholera infantum is cured by it. Follow the plain printed directions and a cure is certain.

A Terrible Punishment.

Herr Hager, a wealthy and absent-minded banker who lived in Berlin many years ago, frequently had watches picked from his pocket. At first he had recourse to all kinds of safety chains; then one fine morning he took no precaution whatever and quietly allowed himself to be robbed. At night, on returning from business, he took up the evening paper, when he uttered an exclamation of delight. A watch had exploded in a man's hands. The hands of the victim were shattered and the left eye gone. The crafty banker had filled the watch case with dynamite, which exploded during the operation of winding.

Salt and Epilepsy.

"Whenever we get a call to attend a case of epilepsy," said an ambulance surgeon at Bellevue, "we always find the patient's neck and face covered with salt. The efficiency of salt as a cure for epilepsy is evidently a relic of some old country superstition, though just what it is we've never been able to find out."—New York Sun.

Stock in a Big Mail Order House

Six per Cent Earnings Guaranteed

Act Quickly

Look out for that "rainy day!"

It comes sooner or later for so many—we can't tell to-day who may want on the morrow.

Prepare now while you are able for any misfortune that may overtake you. Don't run any risks.

Here is something that will help you provide for the rainy day—an investment that carries with it unusual benefits and proves its value from the minute you buy the stock.

Smith's Cash Store is well and favorably known all over the West. Its reputation is of the best and in volume of business it is making tremendous strides forward every year. Some five years ago the stock was selling for $5.00 a share. Today the price is $10.00 a share. These figures demonstrate what a thriving institution is this biggest Mail Order House on the Pacific Coast.

Each share of stock is guaranteed to earn 6 per cent a year. But the greatest benefit is derived by the stockholder from the discounts given to the holders of five or more shares of stock. You can buy anything to eat, use or wear at the same price the goods would cost your local dealers. We call them "Owner's Prices."

Suppose you buy goods that altogether cost $50 at our wholesale rate. If you are a stockholder you get a discount amounting to $2.50, and your bill is only $47.50. The saving you will make in one year in addition to the earnings will in all probability more than cover the investment.

Year after year you will be effecting big savings. But should hard times knock at your door—and you must not be too sure that something of that sort will not happen—think what it will mean to you to be able to buy everything at cost prices. It might be the very thing that would help you to survive the period of distress.

We are increasing the amount of our capital stock. We are telling you about the stock because we think you ought to invest for your own sake. You couldn't buy stock in any other concern that would pay you so well.

It will not be long before the price of the stock is advanced. You know that means there are not many days remaining in which you can take advantage of this great offer.

For your convenience we are printing a coupon which you ought to fill out—it does not obligate you in any way. Send it at once.
